

To Our Customers AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

We desire to say that our store will be closed on Sundays, commencing April 13, Easter Sunday. We will keep open on Saturday nights until 11 o'clock to enable all to obtain their supplies. We hope by this movement not to inconvenience our trade. We remain, yours respectfully,

HENKE & PILLOT.

WE USE OUR BRAINS

for you when you come here to buy Wall Paper. We are careful to show you only the patterns which will be suitable for your room and you will have pleasure in selecting. We will not show you a large pattern for a small room, or a small pattern for a large room. We will make your Wall Paper so that it will be perfectly satisfactory to you. It will be the best Wall Paper you ever had, and will save you money.

The Crittenton Mission.

There was a very large congregation at the Crittenton mission hall Sunday last. In fact one of the largest yet at there. There were few vacant chairs the crowds extended outside to the walk, where they remained standing taking a deep interest in the services, or eight went forward for prayers several professed conversion. The service were very interesting and efforts are made to make all feel that they have a part in them. Services are held every night at 7:45 o'clock. A large water cooler has been placed near the front door and is kept with ice water for all.

Biddy Flynn... Sadie Radcliffe (Paris).

Heles Norton... Josephine Fox
Annetta Remington... Anna Watson

Katie Putnam, the charming little comedienne, whose name and work are so familiar to theater goers, was seen again at the opera house yesterday, matinee and evening, in "The Old Lime Kiln," an excellent production of the melo-dramatic order, in which Miss Putnam is not only the central figure of interest but especially attractive. Other entertainments of a meritorious character in the city last evening evidently interfered with the attendance at the opera house, as the audience was not so large as usual.

Mr. Montague as Captain Norton, Mr.
Kimball as Horace Mervyn and Leonard Mitchell in the rather difficult role of Bud Markley, were good. The female characters were also well sustained. Mr.
Shaleford and Miss Radcliffe added to the comedy feature by very creditable work.
The play was clean and full of interest and excellently staged.

Tonight Georgia Cayvan, the popular and well known actress, will be seen at the opera house in "Squire Kate," a notable dramatic success of the season.

The Madstone Patients.

Mr. Whisenand with his wife and little daughter left last night for his home near Richmond. He came to Houston on Friday last with nothing but trouble and anxiety on his mind. He returned home last night happy in the realization that all fears, as to any future danger befalling his wife and daughter had vanished. He says the madstones which had been applied to the dog bites inflicted on his wife and daughter had removed all of the poison and once more he was a happy man.

Little Willie Bankers is still undergoing treatment, but the madstones have almost ceased to adhere to the wounds, by which it is claimed that all poison has been removed from the system. When this little boy was brought to Houston he was feverish and had no appetite. All fever has left him and he enjoys his meals as much as ever. Mr. Bankers, his father, expects to return home with his son today.

PHYSICAL MANHOOD.

YOUNG MAN, ARE YOU THE MAN YOU ought to be at your age? Are you sure you have not wasted any of the vital energy given you by Nature? If you know that you possess all the physical, mental and vital strength that you ought to have you may continue, for you are a king among men, and all nature rejoices with you; every one admires a strong man. And yet you may have reason to regret your past. You may be weak, despondent.
If so, Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt will restore your power and manhood. It has made thousands happy. Dr. Sanden's famous book, "Three Classes of Men," describes it. Free, closely sealed, by mail. Address

RIPANS TABULES

A gentleman of a methodical habit, who had adopted the practice of retaining a copy of every prescription issued by his family physician, became interested as time went on to note that the same ingredients were pretty certain to be prescribed at some point of the treatment of every case. For a poor appetite, or a sore throat, for restlessness which disturbed the baby's sleep, and for troubles which beset the aged grandparents, the favorite remedy was always turning up, although slightly modified from time to time and used often in conjunction with others. One day our friend happened to observe that the formula of was identical with the latest prescription he had received from his own physician, and in wondering surprise he started the case to him. The family doctor, after listening to what he had to say, replied: "The case is about this way: Whenever there is a disturbance of the functions of the body, no matter of what nature, it is pretty certain to be accompanied by a derangement of the digestive organs. When they are all right the patient gets well. That pattern formula that you have observed me to write more and more frequently is the result of an age of careful experiment, and is pretty generally agreed upon now by all educated physicians who keep up with the times. The discovery of the past few years of the means of reducing every drop to a powder and compressing the powders into little lozenges or tal-lets, or tablets if you prefer, which will not break or spoil, or lose their good qualities from age, is the explanation of how it has come about that this prescription is now for sale as an adventitious remedy. It is the medicine that nine people out of ten need every time they need any, and I have no doubt that making it so easy to obtain, so carefully prepared, and so cheap, will tend to prolong the average of human life during the present generation."
